About Clara

Clara Halper was born on November 2, 1957 in Elizabeth, NJ. Clara graduated from Linden High School. Her father is a World War II vet. Both of her parents have been strong advocates who feel it is important to give back to your community.

- Clara Halper has lived in Piscataway for 16 years.
- Clara earned her BBA from Pace University.
- She was formerly employed as Area Controller for Browning Ferris Industries.
- Clara ran for council in 2002.
- Clara is a member of NFIB for small businesses.

Currently, Clara, her husband Larry, and their four children – all of whom attend Piscataway Public schools – live on the family operated Cornell Farm in Piscataway. Clara is a community activist who attends and participates in most town council meetings in Piscataway.

Clara's Pledge

“If I’m elected mayor, I will put an end to corruption and insider dealing that has plagued this town. I will pursue an agenda that will provide honest and open government, tax reduction and reform, as well as quality of life initiatives”.

“The focus of my administration will be to make Piscataway better for you”.
